Rewald,

Calling James Bond

From what I have read in your newspaper regarding the Rewald case, God help the U.S. of A. if any of its security is in the hands of the CIA.

It seems that the two ex-CIA officials who have testified so far were so taken in by the charm and apparent affluence of this man that they didn't even bother checking his credentials.

I would think that "an eager beaver" who kept volunteering to help an organization like the CIA and "never requested financial payment or favors in return for his efforts" would be immediately suspect and thoroughly checked out before any dealings were undertaken with him.

James Bond we need you — to train our CIA.
